Dear Mr. Connors:

On October 15, 1986, we met to discuss the above-captioned grievance at the fourth step of our contractual grievance procedure.

The issue in this grievance is whether a bargaining-unit employee be assigned as a 204B for less than a full eight hours.

After reviewing this matter, we mutually agreed that no national interpretive issue is fairly presented in this case. A bargaining-unit employee may be assigned as a 204B less than a full day. Under 37.3 (7), management must provide a copy form 1723 showing approximate times and days of the detail. Any amendment to the form shall also be provided to the union. This case is remanded to Step 3 for further consideration by the parties. Whether or not the employee was needed is a noninterpretive issue.

Accordingly, we agreed to remand this case to the parties at Step 3 for further processing including arbitration if necessary.

Mr. James Connors
