Dear Mr. Cullen:

On November 6, 1972, we met with you to discuss the above captioned grievance at the fourth step of our contractual grievance procedure.

A review of the material submitted at the fourth step hearing indicates that the Mobile, Alabama Post Office is using, on a regular basis, a supervisor to perform the duties of an assignment clerk special delivery, as set forth in Position Identification No. IP 195-13.

It is our position that the current National Agreement sets forth circumstances under which the work of a craft member can be performed by a supervisor. The continuous performance of the above-noted job by a supervisor does not meet that
