The Nevada State APWU Convention will be holding its annual state convention in Reno, NV. The Reno Local will be the host local. I look forward to a good conference. Our business agents will be present to offer two days of their expertise and exceptional training. This is a great opportunity for beginning stewards to learn about the grievance process and preparing cases for arbitration. Even the experienced stewards will find this training interesting and can fine tune their already valuable skills.

Please take the time to make your reservation while you're thinking about it. Please send your full allotment of delegates. I encourage all new members to get actively involved. If you're debating on becoming a Steward, now is the time to get involved. The training will help you get prepared for the future.
